2. Three story, 3 bayed Italianate facade with wood cornice. Arched door opening with molded surround. Marble watertable or belt course at first floor. Brick masonry bearing walls with wood framed floors and partitions. Roof slopes from front to rear of 3 story main section. Two story brick ell is one room deep with frame addition at extreme rear of second floor. Fireplaces, used only for coal burning stoves, located first and second floors of main section.
3. This Victorian house is representative of the last stage of row-house evolution in the Ridgely's Delight area. As in other houses of this period along S. Paca St., it exhibits considerably more exuberance in materials and detail than earlier more plebian houses on the same street and may be characteristic of a more well-to-do inhabitant. The taller, 3 story front, interspersed among the 2 and 2½ story houses lends an interesting counterpoint to this 19th century streetscape while maintaining the established scale and harmony of materials.
